The committee discussed places to find data to put on the Own Your Skill website. It was suggested we offer positions that go with the skills. ONET was recommended as a strong site for information.

The idea was posited that we create a Guide to Career Exploration, interviews with companies on how they ask employees to use specific skills, and a video series that shows different careers along a product path.

Brunswick Schools reported their levy failed by 194 votes.

Highland Schools received a STEAM grant for their art supplies discussed last month.
